RAIN STALLS HARVESTING AT CLYDE, GIVES RELIEF TO FIRE-FIGHTERS

CLYDE.—Rain Tuesday morning brought harvesting to an abrupt halt in this district and relief to fire-fighters.

Who Is Who In Morinville

Morinville's municipal district covers approximately 36 square miles with about 2,500 country residents and an urban population of a similar number taking in our small villages and hamlets. Now our estimation of population is purely personal and may be very wrong as far as officials are concerned, but we are not very concerned about that because it has no important bearing on the point we wish to drive home to our readers. The point we would like you all to consider is the fact that we are part of Morinville, that we call Morinville our municipal headquarters, or our home town. Now Morinville has the usual run of citizens, there is no doubt that it could be made much better, but on the other hand you don't have to go far to find worse, but we have one advantage we have a very well developed district, very rich in minerals and good farms. Now that harvest is in full swing, it is the opportune time to check and find out just how good we really are. That is just what we mean by Who Is Who In Morinville. Who has the best wheat? Who has the best malt barley? Who rates the heaviest crop of oats? Who has the largest flock of turkeys? Who sells the most eggs? Who has the largest number of pigs? Who milks the most cows? Who churns the best butter? Who has the best forage crop? Who bakes the most home made bread a week? Who has the largest family? Who has the most draft horses?

Believe it or not but all this is of interest to everyone in Morinville. So, if you think that you have something that will rate you as among the best in the line of crops, cattle, chickens, or last but by no means least, your family, drop us a line or better still drop in at the Martel residence and give us the particulars. If you have no time to spare, just phone 31 r no. 3 and tell us that you wish to report so and so.

It is too late to organize a harvest festival this year, but if the response is encouraging, it could happen that next fall Morinville could have a well organized fiesta after harvest and all prize winning exhibits on display. No prizes are offered to anyone in this friendly Who Is Who contest except to find out just how good Morinville is. Best of luck to all and let us know what you think of an organized harvest festival for the Morinville district next year.

Meanwhile let's all put Morinville on the map, the progressive way.

CLEAR STREETS

A seven year plan to rid Edmonton of 12 miles of overhead wiring and poles has been unnoticed in so much "oil news." Other cities will be interested in the notable improvement, particularly because "underwiring" is cheaper, being immune to damage by snow, sleet, wind or lightning," say civic authorities.

way at 9 p.m.

Several blazes that were out of control last week are dying down to ground fires and immediate danger is over.

Worst fires were four miles north of Clyde, four miles southwest, and between Rochester and Perryvale. Many farmers left their harvesting to fight the fires.

Mrs. J. Gibbons of Edmonton was visiting last week with Mr. W. Sellieck and Mrs. C. Busteed.

Mr. J. Cuthill of Edmonton was a Clyde visitor last week, renewing old acquaintances and visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jack Hindle.

Mr. Wishoff and Irene have gone to B.C. where Irene is receiving medical treatment for her foot.

Mr. Prantner of New Westminster, B.C., is visiting his son Frank at Clyde.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Coley were Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. C. Fostvelt all of Edmonton.

Miss Molly Dawn spent last week-end at the home of her parents at Therien.

Roger Vossen left this week for Edmonton to continue his studies at the University of Alberta.

Mrs. E. Runnels and Ross left on Saturday for Leduc to visit relatives.

Guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Mealing is the former's sister, Mrs. Randall of England.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson were Edmonton visitors last Wednesday when they attended the Ryerson wedding.

Lloyd Chamberlain was a Camrose visitor last week-end where he visited his mother and brother LeRoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson and son Donnie of Edmonton were Clyde visitors on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jones.

The new branch of the Bank of Montreal recently installed in Clyde continues to show improvement with the sign newly painted and storm door added for winter that is just around the corner.

Mrs. G. Birks is home from Edmonton where she has been receiving medical attention.

A brush tree demonstration by Mrs. Humford was held at the home of Mrs. B. G. Mealing last week. Sixteen ladies were in attendance. Mrs. Mealing was the winner of the door prize. Assisting with the refreshments was Mrs. L. Boyd.

Bishop W. F. Barfoot, of Edmonton assisted Rev. D. V. A. Browne with the Communion service held in the St. Luke's Anglican church last Sunday morning.

Plans got underway in the Clyde United church this week for organizing a CGIT group and Taxis Square and Trail Rangers. Leading the girls organization will be Mrs. E. Dagg assisted by Miss Margaret Forbes and Miss Molly Dwan. Mr. R. Armstrong and Mrs. K. Round will supervise the boys groups.

Work on the new highway has gone on apace with the camp moving on Monday to Rochester, from where they were stationed west of Tawatinaw. Only six miles of road remain to be constructed, but bush fires have hampered the work.

One of the finest samples of wheat grown in this district was brought to the elevator by Jack Hindle. It graded No. 2 and yielded 30 bushels per acre.

Union Men Confident of Arbitration Outcome

Government arbitration holds no cause for unhappiness on the parts of railway union representatives. A. R. Mosher, left, and Frank Hall. They are glad that the men are back and make no secret of their jubilation. Final terms of the union contract are yet to be decided.

LEGAL MAY HAVE NEW GAS FIELD

LEGAL.—Rich new gas field may be in the offing for Legal as Eldon Oils Ltd. last weekend capped their no. 4 well.

Well has a flow of 6,000,000 cubic feet per day.

It is located one mile north of Bailey Long Island gas well, which leads to the belief that large quantities of gas may be found in the intervening area.

MONTH AGO

The Eldon well was commenced about one month ago on a section of leasehold owned by G. Eldon Hayward of Edmonton president of Eldon Oils Company Ltd.

There was a small shoveling of oil but not in commercial quantities and the well was capped Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

Mr. Hayward said other wells may be drilled. Exact location of the well is 30 miles north and two miles west of Edmonton.

Former Resident Visiting In Legal

LEGAL.—Passing through Legal recently was Mr. H. Mayotte of Sherbrook, Que., and his family. Mr. Mayotte was a resident in Legal in past years.

Visiting in Legal on Sunday was Mr. Albert Cormier. He too was formerly a resident in Legal.

Several members of our CYO were present at the study day which was being held throughout the day at Morinville.

After some lapse of time, work on the church construction has been resumed. The finishing touches are now being carried out on the roof and a new cross has been set up on the steeple.

Mr. Ed Mercier is repairing the outside of his building by covering it with an attractive brick imitation design.

Mr. P. Venne has made a few changes inside his confectionery in order to make room for two big bowling tables which he has recently purchased.

west of Tawatinaw. Only six miles of road remain to be constructed, but bush fires have hampered the work.

One of the finest samples of wheat grown in this district was brought to the elevator by Jack Hindle. It graded No. 2 and yielded 30 bushels per acre.

Warrant Out for Former Publisher of Banner Paper

James P. Carleton, about 35, formerly of the Forest Heights district, who started a tabloid paper in Edmonton that appeared for three years, is wanted by police.

The former publisher of the "Banner" is wanted by city and RCMP police on five charges of false pretences, arising out of bad cheques which he allegedly cashed in an Edmonton department store.

Det. J. Cookson, of the city police, is in charge of the case.

Carleton's "Banner" was a sensationalist paper printed on yellow newsprint. Its last issue appeared dated Sept. 1. In its first issue Carleton blasted the Detwiler Miracle Mile and in the next issue he flailed the labor unions over the railway strike. In the third issue the "Banner" featured a story on juvenile delinquency, describing, among other things, how narcotics can be administered.

Carleton formerly published a paper in St. John, N.B., known as "This Week."

He came to Edmonton in late July.

At last reports Carleton was known to be driving a brown coupe automobile, early 1930 model.

Morinville Couple Visit In Jeffrey

JEFFRY.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patry from Morinville were staying with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Patry at their old home last week and visiting friends around the district.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McDonald of Edmonton were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. McDonald.

Mr. A. Bowen and Bill were out from Edmonton Saturday to see the threshing being done on their farm.

There are several ground fires burning in the district, one of the worst is on Mr. Jim Middleton's farm, two and a half miles south and one mile east of Jeffrey Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moffat and family went to Edmonton Saturday to get new car keys after losing theirs a few days ago.

Mr. Geo. Hare went to Edmonton to see a rugby game on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. McClelland of Edmonton paid a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moffat, Mr.

and Mrs. Keilh Moffat, and Mr. and Mrs. W. McDonald Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. S. Mills of Edmonton were visitors at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. L. Engler on Sunday.

Good Attendance At Busby United Church

BUSBY.—A very good attendance was present at the United church when Dr. W. T. Young of Edmonton conducted a special dedication service for the new pews just recently purchased. The guest soloist was Miss A. Shemco of Edmonton.

Mr. R. Stepmare an old-time resident of Busby passed away on Thursday. The funeral and interment took place in an Edmonton cemetery.

Mrs. S. Munro is home after spending a few days in Westlock hospital after having some teeth extracted.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Thompson and boys went to Edmonton for the weekend to attend a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams.

Threshing is in full swing in the district, some good yields, others not so good.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. A. Bergevin

LEGAL.—Funeral services were held Sept. 20 for 77 year old Mrs. Anna Bergevin, beloved wife of Mr. Arthur Bergevin of Legal.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Adrien Pelletier, Miss Fernande Bergevin; four sons Raoul, Elie, Lucien and Achille of Legal and four sisters, Mrs. P. Lafleur of Quebec, Mrs. H. Montpetit of Edmonton, Mrs. A. Charlette of Ottawa; four brothers, Albert and Dominique Montpetit of Legal, Luder of Edmonton and Joseph of Ottawa.

To all members of the bereaved family the district offers most sincere sympathies.

George Formby's 'Varieties' To Play In Edmonton

A smash hit last time he played in Edmonton, George Formby is coming back to the capital city on October 12, 13 and 14.

And his sure-fire formula for continued box-office popularity will no doubt pay off handsomely once again.

The British singing comedian will bring his London 'Music Hall Varieties' to the Sales Pavilion at the Exhibition grounds.

Many of the artists, including Formby himself, have given Royal Command performances.

Edmontonians, particularly those of Irish descent, will enjoy the featured performance of Harry Bailey, Ireland's great singing comedian, who will appear in the 1950 'London Music Hall Varieties.'

Also featured will be lovely songstress of the British Broadcasting Corporation Marion Sanders; Mills and Belita, dance stylists, who have appeared in such London Coliseum extravaganzas as 'White Horse Inn' and Henri Vadden, one of Britain's foremost juglers, who has just completed an engagement at the London Palladium.

Tickets are available at Celebrity box-office, c/o Heintzman's in Edmonton.

Vast New Project Opens in Alberta

Far back in the reaches of the Alberta Rockies, lies the new Spray Lake hydro-electric project undertaken by Calgary Power Ltd. The "lake", seen here, is the man-made reservoir which stretches for miles behind the 190-foot high earth dam, which is the key to the Spray valley, and this new hydro project. Nearby channel allows the carry-off of excess water during flood periods, never permitting water levels to rise above the full supply level at elevation of 5,580 feet.

New Hydro-Electric Project Undertaken in Alta. Rockies

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

Nestled in among the towering mountains of the Alberta Rockies, an immense new power project is about to go into operation. A few miles from Banff, in the formerly forbidden Spray Lakes country, Calgary Power Ltd. is bringing in a new hydro-electric project that will almost double the capacity of Alberta's biggest power company.

In a matter of weeks this $10,000,000 development will go to work, supplying Alberta's homes, factories and farms with electrical energy in twice the amount that has previously been available.

High among the Alberta Rockies, on the edge of the Continental Divide, just south of Banff, lies the beautiful valley of the Spray.

And it was as inaccessible as it is beautiful until Calgary Power spent $300,000 on the roads to be undertaken.

In November, 1948, the big job started, and since then about 250 men have been employed on the project.

High up the mountains, behind Canmore, an earth dam bridged a narrow chasm, and back of that the waters of the twin Spray Lakes were built up until it is 190 feet deep in points.

Four dams in all were erected, along with a five and one half mile canal, and the 1,236 foot Penstock Tunnel that will help guide the waters down to the lower dam.

Three power plants will generate electricity, with a total capacity of 88,600 horsepower.

With water the key to the whole development, plans have been made so that hardly a drop will be wasted. Calgary Power incidentally, pays the government rental rights on the water.

Besides being utilized for power consumers, the Spray is used to accomplish other purposes of supplying water to cities and towns, to irrigate, to create scenic beauty and fishing pools, for industrial use, sewage disposal, and for navigation, where possible.

But as great as Spray is, Alberta is growing industrially by such leaps and bounds that Calgary Power is already planning other extensions in the very near future.

Probably early in October the big $10,000,000 project (financed by company shareholders), will go into operation.

It has been a big undertaking, but it is symbolic of a faith in Alberta, and it is a tribute to engineering genius, skill of workmanship, and determination of purpose.

Production Chief Native Albertan

T. D. Stanley, production superintendent at Calgary Power Ltd., has been closely associated with the Spray Hydro Power project. He is a westerner, born in High River, Alberta.

Tom earned his B.Sc. (Arts) at the University of Alberta (1929) and B.Sc. (Electrical Engineering) was obtained at McGill, (1933).

In April, 1935, Mr. Stanley began his career with Calgary Power Ltd.

His professional standing includes membership in the Engineering Institute of Canada, and in the Professional Engineers of Alberta.

Calgary Power Host To 37 Alta. Weekly Editors

Weekly editors from all over Alberta, 37 in number, were guests of Calgary Power Ltd. over the week-end of Sept. 16-17, when they toured the big new hydro project in the Spray Lakes country near Banff.

Some editors gathered in Calgary Saturday morning, were met by others at Canmore, jumping off point for the Spray tour. The party was taken on an afternoon-long tour of the vast development and transported in buses that crept up narrow mountain roads.

They saw huge dams and power plants under actual construction, enjoyed an outstanding dinner at one of the construction camps, and in late afternoon went to Banff.

Following is a list of those who took in the tour:

Arthur H. Avery, Taber Times; Jos. S. Baril, Edmonton La Survivance; Alexander Barnhill, Wetaskiwin News Advertiser; T. M. Brinsmead, Bashaw Star; Chas. A. Clark, High River Times; L. T. W. Pue and Raymond Argyle represented Community Publications, and were accompanied by Mrs. Pue and Mrs. Argyle.

In charge of the tour was W. E. Ross, public relations director for Calgary Power Ltd.

HELD DREAM OF SPRAY LAKES

For almost 30 years, G. A. Gaherty, president of Calgary Power Ltd., has had the vision of the development of Spray Lakes. Now this vision has become reality, and within a few weeks the power will go surging into the homes and factories of Alberta, from the greatest hydro project in the history of the Foothills province.

Mr. Gaherty is a prominent figure throughout the prairies, and in engineering circles all over the world. He is the recipient of many awards, the latest being the Julian C. Smith medal which he received in 1949 for "Achievement in the development of Canada."

Mr. Gaherty is also president of Farm Electric Services Ltd., which is bringing electric service to a greater number of farmers each year.

Perhaps more than any one man, G. A. Gaherty is responsible for the new industrial dawn which is creeping across the Alberta plains.

Spray Engineer Has Wide Experience

G. E. Eckendorf, B.Sc. (Civil), R.P.E., M.E.I.C., resident engineer on the Calgary Power Ltd. Spray Hydro project, has a varied background fitting him well for the responsibility of overseeing the construction of Alberta's biggest and newest hydro-electric project. Like many of Calgary Power's employees he is a westerner. He was born at Trochu, Alberta.

On graduation from the University of Alberta (1933), his B.Sc. degree (Civil, Alberta), earned him a berth with the dominion government as an engineer.

He left government work to join Calgary Power in 1936 remaining with the company until his enlistment in the Canadian Army in 1940.

Following his war service he rejoined Calgary Power Ltd. He was also in charge of the Snare River power project in Yukon Territory.

New Road Link With Alaska

Alberta government's decision to survey the proposed Whitecourt-Valleyview highway with a view to building a new and shorter link with the Alaska highway has brought applause from the residents of the Lac Ste. Anne district.

Businessmen and townfolk of Sanguo, Onoway, Cherhill, Mayerthorpe and other towns have long urged that such a road be built. This newspaper, too, has added its voice to the growing demand for the "Whitecourt Cut-off". Several weeks back a feature story pointed out the necessity of building the new road.

The Whitecourt-Valleyview road would shorten by about 100 miles the present route to Alaska. Instead of travelers having to drive far out of their way through Athabasca and High Prairie, the proposed new road would provide an almost straight route between Edmonton, Grande Prairie and Dawson Creek, in B.C.

The growing towns within the municipal district of Lac Ste. Anne will receive another boost to their continued progress if the road goes through. It would be to the benefit of the Alberta government loses no time on this project.

Alberta Traffic and Safety Guide

Rising toll of accidents, both on Alberta's highways and in the home, factories, and on the farm, is causing growing concern.

A new book, just off the press, entitled "Alberta Traffic and Safety Guide," is a publication well-worth reading.

Published through the efforts of the Safety Council, the Alberta Motor Association and the provincial government's travel bureau, the book is being distributed free throughout the province.

Arthur E. (Bud) Taylor, editor of the Safety Guide, has assembled a valuable amount of material, and we recommend it highly.

A copy of the booklet may be obtained by dropping a note to its editor, at 39 Garfield block, Edmonton.

Farm Income In Alberta

Farm cash income in Canada from the sale of farm products amounted to $70,500,000 during the first six months of 1950. This is a decline of 18.6 per cent from the 1949 cash income of $106,400,000 during the same period. In addition a little over $13 million was received in the form of Prairie Farm Assistance payments.

The substantial decline in farm cash income this year is largely due to the fact that while $213.2 million was paid to prairie farmers in the form of participation and equalization payments during the first half of 1949, only $6.3 million was paid in the same period this year. This reduction in payments is reflected in the sharp drop in farm cash income in the prairie provinces. In Saskatchewan this drop in income amounted to nearly 50 per cent, while in Manitoba and Alberta it came to approximately 44 and 33 per cent respectively.

During the first six months of last year total farm cash income was as follows: Manitoba, $91,029,000; Saskatchewan $228,161,000; Alberta $210,249,000 and Canada $1,078,635,000.

A Newspaperman's Prayer

"Lord, let me keep a straight way in the path of honor, and a straight face in the presence of solemn assemblies; let me not trifle to the high, nor bulldoze the low; let me frolic with Jack and Joker, and win the game; lead me unto truth and beauty and tell me her name; keep me sane but not too sane; let me condemn no man because of his grammar and no woman on account of her morals; neither being responsible for either."

"Preserve my sense of humor and values and proportions. Let me be healthy while I live but not live too long. Which is about all for today. Lord, Amen."

Rural Electrification: How to Get it Sooner

By T. W. PUE

Two years ago the people of Alberta voted by a relatively narrow margin to leave in the hands of the companies now running it, the electric power business.

Perhaps the power companies have a right to feel thankful about that. Any independent grocer, garage man or editor who likes the job of running his own affairs without government domination would be happy to know his business was to be left with him. The CCF, which supported the idea of socializing the power industry, felt somewhat bitter that the same rural vote which supported their ideas on that point, so overwhelmingly voted against them. Such are the fortunes of politics.

Farmers Want Electricity

I believe Alberta farmers turned thumbs down on a CCF government, when at the same time they voted for a Government Hydro commission, because it was rural electrification they wanted—not just socialism. The Alberta farmer would like to have electric lights in his home, and an electric washer, refrigerator, toaster, radios etc., just the same as town and city folks. Besides that, he has scores of real jobs to be done on the farm. Electric lights for barns, machine shops, sheds and hen houses. Electric milking machines, feed grinders and power tools all would be easier and cheaper to operate.

So, if under private enterprise he isn't getting electricity, and there is hope of getting it with government ownership, you can blame him for voting for socialism. No—but let's examine the facts.

Cost Per Farm: $1,000,000

First, we have to recognize there are many limiting factors in the program to get electricity to the farms. Calgary Power Ltd. will soon open its new Spray Lakes power scheme which will solve for years to come the problem of sufficient power. There is plenty of power for every Alberta farm—the stickler being simply a matter of distribution. There are some farms so remote from established power lines that regardless of who sells the electricity, they won't get it for many years.

To get electric power to the farm costs an average of $1,000,000 where 40 or 50 farmers club together. If, as in Manitoba, a power commission handled the job, they would run lines into each farm for less than $100,000, where the actual cost is $1,000,000. Who pays the difference?

Not the farmer getting the power. His electric bill for 20 years probably wouldn't pay it. The money to pay for rural power extension comes out of the pockets of the urban and town users of electric energy.

So, though the individual farmer gets a $1,000,000 power hook-up for $100,000, it isn't fair to the city and town dweller who would have to pay higher rates. Clearly, this isn't possible when private companies are selling electric power, and farmers getting rural electrification are expected to pay their own installation charges.

If the people of Alberta feel that farmers should be aided in installing rural electrification—and I agree with those who do—then I believe it could be done in one of two ways:

(a) Farmers of any district, forming a cooperative association, to build power lines, could borrow money from the government at a very low rate of interest, and repay the principal over a 30-year period. In this way, the rural power user would pay about $3.00 per month capital charges in addition to cost of power used, service charge and storm insurance.

(b) The government could grant a sum of money when power lines are built, to at least match dollar-for-dollar for extension of power service costs to individual farms.

In short, we want rural electrification as fast as men and materials can be provided. We can get it faster with government assistance which doesn't have to include government ownership.

The idea of subsidies for power line extension, leaving the sale and distribution of power in the hands of the private companies, should appeal to the present Alberta government which pretty generally is opposed to government ownership.

Scriptural Meditations

By Ainsley Blair

"Although there may be a tainted, corrupted atmosphere around us, we need not breathe its miasma, but may live in the pure air of Heaven. We may close every door to impure imaginings and unholy thoughts by lifting the soul into the presence of God through sincere prayer. Those whose hearts are open to receive the support and blessing of God will walk in a holier atmosphere than that of earth, and will have constant communion with Heaven."

Never Had No Mom?

Dear Sir,—Gosh, what a screwball, that guy who yelled in the Voice that women are ruining the country, that he hated all women, and that the world would be better off without them! How the heck does he think he got here—by a stork?

MARRIED AND HAPPY,
Hardisty.

Husband Drunken Maniac

Dear Sir,—Having read your article entitled "Drunkenness No Excuse," I would like to add my opinion, it most definitely is no excuse for anything. When men or women willfully destroy their sense of reality and an innocent person pays the price, why should they be given or shown any leniency?

We have a so-called Christian Government in Alberta. Why so lax in liquor laws? Governments quite often make various surveys covering this and that, why not make a house to house survey, to find out for themselves how many broken hearts and homes they will find, caused by liquor?

The leaders of our Government profess to believe in God and are not conscious of the evils of liquor.

nor or have no conscience as to the effects of liquor on what could be decent citizens of Alberta. Why remain in office?

Something should and must be done soon to protect those whose misfortune it is to be living with alcoholics or suffering from the stupidity of a drunk at large.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

Answers Woman Hater

Dear Sir,—I hope B.G.F. of Whitecourt, Alta., takes note of this.

I take it for granted that you have been married and had the experience with women, for you take them aside as your enemies now.

It is something like the war that is going on in the world today. You should realize that God created us to love everybody, not to hate any creature living here on earth.

Since you hate women, you must not like your mother very much because she is a woman too, which you must remember.

Women were made to take care of men, if it weren't for the women, you wouldn't be living in this world today. Please take this into consideration.

CORRIE OLCHOWY.

Thought For Today

Dear Sir,—It would be nice if some people had a little less love for money and a little more love for their fellow men.

(From Brooks Bulletin)

A southern Alberta editor, just about to go to press " pied" a couple of articles, one concerning an auction sale and the other a write-up of a wedding. He asked the office devil to get the two articles together, and here's how he did it:

"William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my barn one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses, and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of about 70 guests including two milk cows, 6 mules and a bob sled. Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope, and the bridal couple left on one John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONCanadians Should Always Practice Christian Living

Christian living is a worthy objective for all Canadians. But against the background of this modern age, with its stresses and strains, one question must first be answered: "What is Christian Living?"

The scriptural background of Christian living is based on Jesus' teachings, a part of his Sermon on the Mount, on Paul's teachings in his letters to the believers at Philippi and at Thessalonica, and the practical teachings of James, the brother of our Lord.

A definition of Christian living presupposes that the person to be advised is already a believer in Christ. There could be no Christian living without first an acceptance of Christ. Any study or definition of Christian living therefore, immediately goes back to a study of Christ himself and his manner of life while he was here in the world.

In the first part of the Sermon on the Mount—in the Beatitudes—Jesus told his followers what the Christian traits should be. Then he turns to their influence. Using symbols which his listeners could easily understand, he compares his followers to salt and light.

Salt, although a very plentiful material in that part of the world, was and is a very necessary element. Jesus was comparing salt to the unconscious influence of Christians. As salt works silently and unseen to save food from spoiling and to make it more palatable to the taste, so should the Christian's influence silently work to make the home, church and community a better place in which to live.

Light represents the Christian's visible influence. The life of Christians should be such that everyone who comes into contact with him or her will be able to see "Christ living in me," as Paul once declared. Both salt and light work silently and so should the influence of people who love Jesus. Jesus taught partly by what he said, much more by what he did but most of all by what he was, the sinless Son of God.

Paul outlines the Christian philosophy of religion in his letter to the Philippians. While he says much the same things as Jesus did, he does not say them quite so simply. Paul urged the believers at Philippi to live as citizens worthy of the heavenly kingdom, which to him, meant doing the will of God in the church as it is done in heaven.

He gave them the comfort of the assurance that the Living Christ lived with them every day.

FIRES FOG ALTA. TOWNS

Several persistent blazes throughout northern Alberta have caused a fog of smoke in several communities.

The peat-hog near Newbrook, which has been fought by about 200 men for the past week, has drowned Waskatenau, Thorhild and Boyle in a fog of smoke, according to reports from those points.

Forest fires farther north have wafted smoke into Lac la Biche.

The big peat-hog blaze which menaced Newbrook early last week is slowly dying down. Change of the wind, which was at first pushing the fire right into the town, saved Newbrook from almost certain disaster.

The Price of Peace

Over the counter of the pawnshop a musician handed his violin with the brief comment:

LETTER TO LOUISA

Alberta Girl Writes Of Older Man Who Loves Her

Dear Louisa — I am 20 years of age, and I have a problem which you can perhaps help me solve.

For several months I went out with a man considerably older than myself. He is a fine man, fairly well-to-do, of the same faith. He says he loves me, and he can offer me everything I want.

I tried to make myself love him, and I admire and like him immensely, but I just can't love him.

On the other hand, I have fallen for another man I know. He's poor, and not of my faith, but he's more my age.

Is it possible that looks counts? You see, the older man is not very good looking. Or is it that I'm being childish where this matter is concerned?

BROWN EYES.

Answer:

No matter how fine a man is he, there's no point in considering marriage if you do not actually love him. But make sure about this first.

As far as the younger man is concerned, do not try to rush into anything, as time will tell if you actually love him. Will then be enough to decide if you actually want to marry him.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—I am a girl of 17 who does not know much about piano organ playing, but I would like to take lessons this winter.

At our church there is a lovely organ but no one plays it. I have been told that mostly only Sisters play the church organ, and I am wondering if I could play it.

Also, could you tell me where I might take such lessons.

WONDERING.

Quite often you see advertisements in the daily papers where you can obtain such lessons. In regard to your playing the church organ, why not ask your priest about this?

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—Ever since I can remember I have always had a special cousin, and now I am afraid I have fallen in love with him. I may sound silly, but that's the case. I've been told what can happen if cousins marry, but we love each other and want to get married.

MARGO.

Answer:

If you two happen to be first or second cousins, I would advise strongly against your present plans. True love cannot be selfish, and I am afraid that is what it would amount to, as to marry with out thinking of your children would be very selfish. Moreover, every marriage must have children to make it complete. I am sorry to say this, but in my opinion, you should try and forget each other.

LOUISA.

PUBLISHING COSTS RISING BUT WEEKLIES MOST CAREFULLY READ

Although costs of publishing papers has risen greatly during the past year, to the point where one expert says "adjustments" in price scales are necessary for most papers to survive, a recent market survey indicates that weeklies are read "seven times" more carefully than the average daily paper.

The prominent figure who called for price increases as a necessity for survival was T. F. Mowle, a director of the Wall St. Journal, who pointed out that "newspapers, as a whole, are earning less each year despite an increasing revenue."

"Several great newspapers have closed their doors within the current year . . . this makes imperative adjustments of the rate structure to put the newspaper business on a sound financial basis."

Advertising and circulation prices have had to be raised by many Alberta weeklies recently. Latest paper to boost its price per copy is the Drumheller Mail, which has gone from five to seven cents per copy.

Findings of recent readership surveys in Canada and the U.S. indicates that readership of advertising, on the average, is seven times greater in weeklies than in dailies.

In the daily press as few as one per cent of the readers may read an advertisement, but in weeklies, the percentage of readership is much higher.

For example, a similar General Motors advertisement received attention from 56 per cent of the readers of a weekly paper compared to a rating of only 16 per cent for the same advertisement in a daily which was surveyed.

Church Condemns Horse Betting

TORONTO.—Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the United Church board of evangelism, said Saturday that the United Church played a big part in helping to reduce betting in Windsor, Ont., on horse races and that there was reason to hope for good results in Montreal.

An admonition against dishonesty in such matters as making income tax returns was contained in a report of the board of evangelism and social service, presented by Dr. Mutchmor.

"It is just as dishonest to steal from Ottawa as from our next-door neighbor," Dr. Mutchmor said.

Educators to Tour Alberta

Three Canadian and three American men prominent in education will tour Alberta centres this fall as guest speakers at 17 conventions of Alberta teachers.

Series has been arranged by the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Among the most famous educationists to attend will be Dr. W. E. Blatz, internationally noted authority on child psychology.

Another faculty member of the Toronto University, Dr. John A. Irving, psychologist, will be present.

The Alberta Teachers' Association sponsors of the convention, have reached across the line for three educationists. Dr. George Selke, University of Montana; Mr. W. Virgil Smith, assistant superintendent of Seattle Public Schools; and Dr. Wilbur A. Yauch, principal of the Training School and Professor of Education at the University of Ohio, will attend.

Probably the most prominent of the entire group is Edmonton's Dr. M. E. LaZerte, former dean of the Alberta Faculty of Education.

Royal Highland Gathering

Braemar Highland gathering is one of the major events in the Scottish sporting calendar, attracting visitors from far and wide. The Royal Family attended the event last week. Here a husky Scot is seen throng the hammer, making a striking picture as he hurls the 22-lb. missile 94 feet.

COMMUNITY CHEST NEEDS FUNDS TO OPERATE CRECHE NURSERY

The biggest family in Edmonton plays in practically the centre of the downtown section of the city, pursues its busy activities of building with blocks, climbing on the jungle gym, sleeping, eating, and all the hundreds of things children from two months to six years of age do in a day.

Every child at the Edmonton Creche Society, a Red Feather agency of the Community Chest of Edmonton, has its own mother, but from 7:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. every day Mary Myers, RN, a staff of eight, and the other 85 or more children there are her "family."

The Creche has a registration of 135 children and a daily attendance in excess of 85. Priority is given to mothers who are the sole support of their families. More than 70 mothers who are the sole support of their families are among those who leave their children at the Creche. Without this service the majority of them would be unable to work and would be dependent on municipal relief for support. One welfare worker has estimated that the annual saving to the tax payers in this one item is probably 10 or 12 times the $4,900 grant received from the Community Chest. This is typical of the work provided by Community Chest agencies to Edmonton and environs. Through the work of the Creche and the 31 other Red Feather agencies those who are dependent are assisted in becoming self supporting and productive members of the community.

When the children arrive in the morning they are dressed for the day in clothing provided by the Creche. Five diapers are provided for the babies. Every child passes under the careful scrutiny of Miss Myers for any symptom of disease or ailment. The program for the day according to different age levels includes recreation, classes for the older children, rest and meals.

New Film Describes Latest Golf Rules

Important changes in the rules of golfing are presented pictorially in a new film which has been made available free to any interested groups.

Since William IV of England became the Patron of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews revised several key rules, with a view to improving, clarifying and speeding up the game.

A 16mm Kodachrome motion picture has been sponsored by the House of Seagram, pictorially presenting these new rules. Produced by Associated Screen Studios of Montreal, the film features James Buchanan, Canadian representative, the Rules of Golf Committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, and B. Colin Rankin, rule chairman of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

New rules covered in the picture are: Ball out of bounds; lost ball; the unplayable ball; putting procedure; movable and immovable obstructions; hazards; and the sandtrap play. Demonstrating the rules are genial Bill Kerr, top Canadian in the 1949 Canadian Open Golf Championship, and Hilles Pickens, publisher of the Canadian Sport Monthly.

STURGEON DISTRICT ASKS GOV'T TO TAKE OVER VICTORIA TRAIL

Municipality of Sturgeon, stretching north from Edmonton, will have to put up $5,000 to receive a $7,500 grant from the provincial government for road work on the Victoria trail, leading from the city to Redwater.

This was learned at a recent meeting of the municipal council, held in the council chambers at Edmonton.

The secretary was instructed to remind the government that Sturgeon has already requested the government to take over the Victoria Trail, because it is the most direct route to Redwater, and thereby is heavily travelled, the municipality cannot afford to maintain it in good condition.

No reply has yet been received to this report, which was made in July.

FOR YOUR HEALTH and COMFORT...

The Massey-Harris

Velvet Ride Seat

Every tractor operator knows the dulling backache of a day in the hard, rigid seat of any ordinary tractor—jolting and jostling over the ruts and bumps of hard, uneven ground.

With the introduction of the Massey-Harris velvet ride tractor seat you can obtain relief from this discomfort. The velvet ride seat is mounted on a variable rate coil spring and double action hydraulic shock absorber which have the effect of levelling out rough ground to give you a ride "smooth as velvet." When it comes to choosing your next tractor, make it a Massey-Harris and enjoy the comfort of the velvet ride seat. You'll get more work done because you'll feel better while you're doing it. Velvet ride seats can be fitted to any older Massey-Harris model if desired.
